

Social and Emotional Learning

Social and Emotional Learning (SEL)

1. Definition:

- Social and Emotional Learning (SEL) refers to the process through which individuals acquire and apply skills necessary to understand and manage emotions, set and achieve positive goals, feel and show empathy for others, establish and maintain positive relationships, and